Nature is pure life, variety and transformation.

We all are people from nature and, because of that we would like to show nature in transformation for Christmas time... showing their times and rhythms and using what nature offers us in each moment of the year.

We call everyone to participate during this month and until the 22nd December to film and take pictures about Christmas decorations that are made with natural materials. You can do it with your children, at school, family... or just alone in an inspirational moment!

Would we watch differences between what is made in Spain and in Germany for example? What kind of creations will do people from England or Finland? Or Slovenia and Canada?

There is just one condition: use natural materials as the base for your creations.

Please, share the initiative with your friends and followers. Thanks!!!

Send us your photos and videos to: asociacionedna@gmail.com
